Miss Frances Bishop and Herman Krueger Marry This Evening

This evening at 8 o'clock at the Evangelical Church of Peace will take place the marriage of Miss Frances F. Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Bishop of 1090 Fourteenth avenue, and Herman Krueger, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Krueger, 718 Thirteenth avenue. Rev. F. J. Rolf, pastor of the church, will officiate. Relatives and friends of the couple will be the guests at the ceremony and following the taking of the vows there will be a wedding dinner at the home of the bride's parents, to which some seventy relatives have been invited.

Decorations in the church consist of an abundance of greenery, the altar being banked with ferns and palms. The only color in the church is the gown of the bride, which is of the bride's chosen color, the rainbow shades. Preceding the ceremony hour Miss Irene McLeod will sing "O Promise Me," and Mrs. E. J. Rolf at the organ will announce the approach of the bride. The wedding march will be "Wedding March." As the party reach the altar Miss Florence Krueger will sing "At Dawning" (Cadmian). The bride will be preceded to the altar by her attendants, Miss Alice Juelg of Peoria and Mrs. Howard Nielsen will walk first, followed by Miss Gladys Titterton and Miss Mable Hintz. The latter three are cousins of the bride. Their dresses are of organdy, made in a dainty spring ruffled design. Miss Juelg wears orchid. Mrs. Nielsen Nile green, Miss Titterton peach and Miss Hintz yellow. Miss Lucille Bishop, sister of the bride, as maid of honor comes next. Her dress is of turquoise blue canton crepe, made with silver gorgette crepe trimming. All will carry arm bouquets of pink and white carnations, tied with large bows of colored satin ribbon.

The bride's dress is of white satin, made with an entire over-dress of white Spanish lace. A girle of pink and blue rosebuds holds in the soft folds of the lace. The bride veil of tulle is arranged in a small ruff, bandeau with orange blossoms. Raindrops, sweepers, and lilies of the valley in shower arrangement will form the bridal bouquet. The bride will enter the church with her father and the party will be met at the altar by the bridegroom and his two groomsmen, his brother, Henry Krueger, and Ray Sehnert.

Rainbow shades will decorate the house and the wedding guests will be served at two long tables. The couple will leave during the evening for a honeymoon trip, keeping their destination a secret from their friends, and will be at home in two weeks at 718 Thirteenth avenue.

The bride attended the Peoria school and Rock Island high school and has been a stenographer for the last three years at the Milwaukee depot. Mr. Krueger is connected with the Blackhawk Chemical company. He graduated from the local schools and Brown's Business college.

Unique Presentation of Program Feature Musical Club Meet

A unique and cleverly presented program was given yesterday afternoon at the March meeting of Rock Island Musical club in the ballroom of the Rock Island hotel. The recital was in the form of a costume recital and was divided into three parts—yesterday in American music, today and an Indian group.

The setting for the yesterday group was an old fashioned living room, with piano-forte, spinning wheel, braided rag rugs, chimney corner, while the members on the program appeared in costumes suitable to the colonial surroundings. Mrs. J. R. Freeman sang "Ban Bolt," "The Bloom is on the Ryce" and "Paddy Your Own Canoe," while Mrs. Faye Hough McCarthy read "The Minuet," which was danced by the Misses Noureen Bennett and Dorothy Dunn, and "The Old Red Cradle," to music accompaniment by Miss Catherine Heimann, piano, and Miss Anna Marie Van Duzer, violin.

A modern music room setting and modern concert gowns were worn for the second part of the program, music of today. The program included a reading, "Mirandy on Matrimony," Sonata in D major, (piano and violin), a group of songs, "Sonny Boy," "Gingham Gown," "Yesterday and Today," and "To the Sun," and a group of petite poems, concluding with "The Last Leaf" by Offenberg.

Miss Van Duzer and Miss Heimann wore Indian costumes when they gave the last group, five Burleigh selections for piano and violin.

A large representation of the membership enjoyed the treat offered yesterday, another of the fine programs presented this year in a different manner. The next meeting, April 4, will be a guest program, at the First Methodist church, when each member is invited to bring one or more visitors. The program subject is, "Spring Day."

The club presents the program at the Music Night, March 28, at Tri-City Music center, Davenport.

Club News in Edict.
There is much of interest to club women of this vicinity in the March issue of the Edict, the official publication of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs. In the club news, a column is devoted to the activities of the Rock Island Women's club. Mention is made of the community singing which opens each week, of the large club membership, the excellence of the programs, of the trees which were donated on Armistice day as memorials to the World War heroes. The article speaks of the playground work of the civic department, its support as well as the travelers' aid, the girl scouts, the home bureau as well as other lines of work. Mention is also made of the program given at the meetings of the study and music departments.

According to the Edict, Mercer county has adopted the state motto, "A woman's club in every town of an size in the county," and is striving to extend its activities throughout every community. The Columbian club of Alton, organized in 1893, the year of the Columbian exposition in Chicago, is the largest club in the county with a membership of nearly 100. There are two enthusiastic clubs in Keokuk, the Fortnightly club of Viola, the Sherrard Woman's club and two other clubs are being organized. They are boosting for club goods, good towns and good roads. The Mercer county clubs belong to the 14th district of I. F. W. C., which includes Rock Island and Moline.

An article is contained in the Edict by Mrs. A. S. Edwards of Moline, chairman of the division of birth registration, stating that the Illinois federation is planning on cooperating actively with the state department of public health in securing prompt and complete registration of births. It says: "In view of the fact that Illinois now stands alone among the northern states of the Mississippi that have not qualified for the United States birth registration area, we have decided to carry on a determined drive for securing complete birth reports, and will have a statewide campaign during health promotion week some time early in May."

One of the feature articles of the month is on "Bringing the Family Into the Federation," by Mrs. J. L. Van Grundy, president of the Monmouth Woman's club, on organization of this district.

PAGEANT PLANS ARE ABANDONED

Home Bureau Executive Board Decides Against Staging Historical Spectacle

Plans for a historical pageant to illustrate pioneer life in Rock Island county, formed by the Rock Island home bureau, which had concluded arrangements with the fair association directors to stage the pageant on the fair grounds next fall, were abandoned yesterday at the meeting of the executive council of the bureau organization.

It was realized that the bureau lacked the funds necessary for such a large enterprise, and it was felt that the association was perhaps too young to undertake it successfully and secure cooperation from other organizations.

Plans for 1923 were discussed. The bureau's fiscal year begins Sept. 1.

Miss Allen, advisor, addressed 40 women at a meeting of the Hampton unit in the community hall yesterday afternoon, conducting a dress form demonstration.

Paris, March 8.—Printed georgette is queen at the instant. No afternoon gown is complete unless made of this material or combined with it—such is the dictum of certain couturieres. The fact that the dictum is sometimes disregarded does not alter the further fact that a lovelier material for the stuffy spring frock has never been seen. Among the other fabrics which make this spring glorious in fashionable quarters are stain chambruse in sunset tint, crepe de chine in rust, larkspur, orange and dandelion; various silk crepes in sand, oyster, seagull and other marine tone of sorretto blue. Next to a touch of red, a touch of orange is the consequent and popular feature.

New York, March 8.—Radium silk and crepe de chine are the undoubted leaders in lingerie for the spring season. Pastel tones seem to be featured in the silk wear more than the deeper tints, although the cotton underwear such as nightgowns and bathrobe comes in more vivid shades and combinations of shades than has been in recent years. Bateau necks complete the newer nightgowns. Trimmings show their leading tendencies: filet lace, toward Valenciennes, and toward plain, toward the tailored bands. Sky blue is a new tint for underthings and often combined with medallions of Irish lace. Nightgowns appear in remarkable shades—even orange and jade; and they are piped giddily in a contrasting tone.

New York, March 8.—With the short sleeves seen on so many spring and summer frocks, the long glove comes back into its own. White gloves of 12 and 16-button length are always good style.

Heavily stitched scrolls around the wrists in faint shades of tan and beige. Often these beige gloves are cleverly combined with white or black embroidery or stitching. A pair of elbow length gloves in a delicate sand tone shows a row of heavily stitched scrolls around the upper part, the scrolls being black to match the heavy back stitching extending from knuckle to wrist. Scallopings around the elbow is a favorite finish also. Usually the scalloping is stitched in a shade deeper than that of the glove itself.

New York, March 8.—Influenced by the incongruity of a French heel with a sports suit even when the sports suit is worn on city streets, women are calling for low heels and semi-round toes. In response to the call, shops offer extremely chic street shoes for wear with suits. The shoes are often in plain colors, frequently of modified pump design with a strap across the instep, finished with a neat button or a steel or dull gold buckle. Sport shoes with rubber soles are seen in tan and champagne tints. One shop has oxford intended for wear with tweed suits. The oxfords come in smoked elk with a black "saddle" or wide band across the vamp and in champagne colored elk with a tan saddle. For more formal wear the new pumps display the "lotus flower" motif for the tongue—a pretty, flat pleated effect.

Massaging nightly into the scalp with the finger tips.

Excessively oily hair is the result of a diseased condition of the scalp, that is sometimes serious, as it makes the glands enlarge and throw off exudations too rapidly. This trouble is usually caused by an unhealthy condition of the system, and is difficult to control, except by internal treatment.

For instance, a person so afflicted, who suffers from indigestion or her body proper nourishment, to bring it to a comparatively normal state, a local application will be effective.
